

Flying transport

Filimonov Stepan RL6-31

Civil aircraft

Passenger planes are designed and equipped to carry passengers and luggage. They have separate compartments for transporting people and cargo.

Transport aircraft is an aircraft designed to transport various goods. Often the same aircraft is cargo and passenger, only the equipment changes.

Agricultural aircraft - used for agricultural work. Most often, agricultural aviation is used for spraying fertilizers on agricultural crops, as well as for fertilizing crops.

Sports plane is an aircraft designed for training, training and competitions of pilots-athletes. The most important features of sports aircraft are their small weight, ease of control, and the possibility of long flights with heavy overloads.

Military aircraft

A fighter is a military aircraft designed primarily to destroy enemy air targets. It is used to gain air supremacy over the enemy.

A strategic bomber is a combat aircraft capable of carrying aviation weapons, including nuclear weapons, intended for bombing or missile strikes on strategically significant objects located on the territory of a hostile state.

Military transport aircraft is a transport aircraft designed to deliver troops,
weapons and other
military equipment.

The End